Pharmacy information

Due to the opioid crisis....I can not give written prescriptions for pain meds. And I suspect even non-pain meds will eventually be like this. Prescriptions must be sent to your pharmacy by electronic prescription software. Bear in mind that I'm not a computer person, this software is always changing, and there may be hiccups...I wish I could just hand you a prescription.

That said, please legibly write your address, your birthday, your preferred pharmacy (and location or phone if you can), your height and weight, and any allergies to medicines you have. And please make sure I can read your phone number and email address.

I am the only one who can e-prescribe, so I will likely do this 2x a week. Pharmacies are under a lot of scrutiny and some re-stock your prescription a few days after they are submitted if you do not pick them up. There seems to be no rhyme or reason to this, so please pick up your prescriptions within a few days of seeing me IF I am planning to send something in.

Thanks

Dr. William Lindsey
